COMPANY OVERVIEW: THE BREAKDOWN

TerreWär

(Terroir)

What is the flavour that lingers on your tongue and on your palate, in your nostrils and lungs? Does it taste of toasted oak or black tea? Does it burn smoothly or sporadically? Where do these variations come from?

Cannabis Terroir: is the set of environmental factors such as soil composition, nutrient loading, biological concentrations, and growing environment, interact with the plants' genetics to express as varying ranges of terpene profiles and cannabinoid percentages. It also accounts for the people and culture that have a hand in its' production and consumption experience.

PAST ACHIEVEMENTS

- Brands: Collaborated and built some of Canada's most respected and innovative industry brands
- Treatments & Profits: We have focused our development on the most effective and profitable formulae and products
- Market Share: Brand awareness is the most expensive and riskiest of marketing efforts, we limit that risk
- Unique Genetics: Decades of development have gone into our products and cultivation techniques
- Real Data; Sales, manufacturing & production figures. We use these for data driven insights
- Execution performance: Experienced multidisciplinary team with real world experience and measurable results
- Scale: We have grown made and sold at commercial scale for decades.
- Conservative: Growth and sales has been limited to fit into the future legal regulatory environment
